

Blunt-Nosed Leopard Lizard Workshop

- May 6-7, 2009
- Bakersfield, CA
- Sponsored by The Wildlife Society, San Joaquin Valley Chapter

Workshop Synopsis

May 6th A full day of exciting and valuable classroom instruction at the Dezember Center on the CSU Bakersfield campus. A light breakfast, lunch, and afternoon refreshments will be provided. Lectures are 9AM-5PM. Registration and binder pick-up start at 8AM. This workshop is limited to 50 participants.

May 7th will be field identification at the CDFG Buttonwillow Ecological Reserve. There is NO shade, so please bring appropriate clothing, hats, footwear, and sunblock. Also, you must have a pair of binoculars. They really help to identify all the lizard species! Water, beverages, and a lunch will be provided. To minimize vehicle impacts on the reserve, participants will not be allowed to drive their personal vehicles to the reserve, and bus transportation will be provided to the reserve and back to Bakersfield. A restroom will be available on the bus.

Completing and successfully passing the 2-day workshop will earn a 25 day credit to becoming a CDFG Level II BNLL surveyor.

Registration Fees:

- SJV Chapter Member $200.00
- Non-Member $225.00
- Students $50.00 (includes one-year chapter membership)

Registration deadline is Monday May 4, 2009.

Registration covers an information binder, lunch, snacks, and beverages for May 6-7.
